

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a great opportunity to pay my gratitude to those who not only rendered help, but also provided unending encouragements and moral support to conduct and complete the present study.

I express my deepest sense of gratitude to those people of Midnapore, who smilingly allowed me to interview them for the present research. To all I iterate my apology for perturbing their tranquil life.

I take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to Dr. Sovanjan Sarkar, Department of Anthropology, Vidyasagar University who is my teacher and supervisor of the present Ph.D. work. He not only inspired me but also provided various thought provoking ideas to improve this research work. Without his affectionate, caring and guidance in each and every step, my research work would never been completed.

I convey my profound debts to Late Prof. Falguni Chakraborty for his kind guidance at the time of selection of my study population and also thankful for his valuable academic support.

I am thankful to all my teachers who have strengthened my foundation in Anthropology during my post-graduate study namely Prof. Abhijit Guha, Prof. Kaushik Sankar Bose, Prof. Dipak Kumar Middya, Dr. Sudip Dutta Banik and Dr. Sanjenbam Yaiphaba Meitei.

I am grateful to Dr. Amit Kumar Kisku, Assistant Professor and Teacher-in-Charge of the Department of Anthropology whose initiative made it possible to submit the thesis.

I am immensely thankful to Dr. Sumahan Bandyopadhyay, and Mr. Shimul Roy, Assistant Professors of the Department of Anthropology of Vidyasagar University for their support and valuable suggestions.

I am sincerely thankful to Dr. Raj Kumar Karan for his continuous cooperation and encouragements since the inception of the work and for his moral support and academic discussion throughout the entire research work.

Special thanks are due to Mr. Arghya Santra, Smt. Rituparna Maikup, Smt. Moumita Panda and Mr. Parikshit Chakrabarty for their cooperation during the fieldwork as well as data collection.

I thankfully acknowledge the active co-operation of Smt. Mahua Samanta, Miss. Anindita Giri, Smt. Soma Pal, Miss. Samarpita Koley, Mr. Shahbaz Hussain and all other existing Research Scholars of the Department of Anthropology, Vidyasagar University.

In Midnapore, I received various kinds of help from many people for conducting my fieldwork over the municipal area. I remain thankful to them those who helped me during my pilot survey and fieldwork. The Chairman of Midnapore municipality and all counselors (25 municipal wards) of Midnapore municipality are gracefully acknowledged for their kind guidance and active co-operation at the time of fieldwork.

I am thankful to the officers and staffs of the election commission office of the District Magistrate, Paschim Medinipur, for allowing me to consult the voter list of oldest old people (80 years and above).

I remain thankful to the officers and administrative staffs of the Vidyasagar University in general and Department of Anthropology in particular for providing me different infrastructural facilities.

Last but not the least, I am honestly grateful to my parents and my family members for rendering practical, emotional and scrupulous support in every step of my study. I deeply indebted to my maternal aunts Miss. Sujata Ganguly and Miss. Sanchita Ganguly for their parent like guidance, continuous encouragements since the inception of the work, patiently braving numerous inconveniences and uncertainties and also providing assistance toward the end and throughout the work.

Indraja Bankura
(INDRAJA BANKURA)