

Acknowledgements

I would like to acknowledge that my ability and patience to complete this work comes from God. He has blessed me with the intellectual ability, the yearning for knowledge, and the environments to allow those to grow.

Again, I would like to thank my advisor, Dr. Sankar Kumar Roy, Professor, Department of Applied Mathematics with Oceanology and Computer Programming, Vidyasagar University, Midnapore. To me, he is an ideal advisor, and I feel extremely fortunate to be able to work with him. He is passionate, energetic, rigorous and highly supportive. He gave me the complete freedom in choosing what I wanted to work on, and always encouraged me to pursue further into the topics. He also tried his best to help me get around the many difficulties I faced. I still remember when I wrote my first paper on non-linear cost, he spent so much time helping me that he could have written the paper from scratch himself. When I started my Ph.D., I wished to learn as much from him as possible. Now I think I have learned a lot from him already, but I realize that he still has a lot more that I can learn from.

I am indebted and grateful to Professor M. Pal, Professor S. K. Mandal, Professor D. K. Maiti, Professor M. Maiti, Professor R. N. Jana, Dr. G. Ghorai, Dr. R. N. Giri, Dr. K. Barman, Department of Applied Mathematics with Oceanology and Computer Programming, Vidyasagar University, Midnapore, West Bengal, INDIA, for their co-operation.
